CONFERENCE PROGRAM

Pre-conference drinks: Drinks at the College, 5.30-7.00pm on Wednesday 19 October, 111 Elizabeth Street, Sydney. Hosted and sponsored by the College of Law

Day 1: Thursday 20 October 2016

New Law, and the disruption that goes hand in hand with it, sits at the heart of this year's conference.

To address this disruption, we're disrupting the traditional conference. During the day, you will take part in huddles, challenge walls, sounding boards, tea and coffee updates, will hear short, focused perspectives from experts in the field as issues arise. This will be a whole new ways of collaborating on practical legal education and one that you can take back and use in your firms/organisations as well.

What you can expect

Beginning on Day 1, participants will engage in a highly interactive case study, designed to examine the themes of new law, new learning and how we respond, from many perspectives. We will take that forward and develop it further through a series of parallel breakout sessions that highlight contemporary best practices inside and outside the legal industry on Day 2. You will get to drill down on the topics that are most important to you.

Something for all stakeholders in Legal Education

On Day 1, we will respond to challenges raised in our hypothetical scenario, challenges that face regulators, providers of legal education, in-house L&D professionals. We will work together, applying new and different learning techniques, to create templates and guides for future use, regardless of your particular role in the legal learning & development community. We will revisit these in the depth that you want to in Day 2.

Stay tuned.....

Over the next few weeks, visit our website as we share information about Day 1 and the breakout sessions on Day 2. This is one CLEAA conference you will not want to miss!
